Millions of photos are taken everyday across the world. Some are just snapshots. Others are more carefully crafted and can deepen our vision and sharpen our sense of what life is all about. In this workshop we will be exploring how our photography and our spirituality can inspire each other.

The workshop will explore how photography can offer us unique perspectives on ourselves, our world and our faith - focusing on some particular aspects of photography and giving plenty of hands-on experience with your camera in the wonderful surroundings of Winchester.

You don't need any prior experience or expertise - just some enthusiasm to explore how photography might deepen your spirituality (and vice versa!). Please bring a camera with you - anything from a camera phone to a high end camera.

We will be honing up our photographic skills a little, but the accent will not be on producing technically perfect images. The idea is to create some images that help you express yourself spiritually and that might potentially be a spiritual resource for others too. Through the camera we will aim to open our eyes to God's presence in ordinary, as well as special, places.

The day will be led by Philip Richter, a Methodist minister, serving as a Ministry Development Officer in the Connexional Team. He is a keen photographer and writer on photography and spirituality. Philip's latest book was published in April this year: Spirituality in Photography: taking pictures with deeper vision (Darton Longman & Todd).
